Only $1.16 Sought in Case Before Supreme Court for Decision.

WASHINGTON Oct. 4.—A suit involving a monetary consideration of $1.16, but a question of law "or gravity and importance" to all "aliroad companies in the United States has been brought by the Pennsylvania Railroad to the Supreme Court for decision. The case is against the United Stater and questions an order is sued by the Department of Justice under which clerks of federal courts are permitted to charge a commission of 1 per cent in addition to fines and costs paid by the unsuccessful litigants.

The Pennsylvania plead guilty to violation of the twenty four hour law on a shipment of cattle and was fined $100 with $16.30 costs and the clerk charged his commission and the company was ordered to pay it. The company contends that numerous cases where the detention of cattle in cars over twenty four hours limit is "practicably unavoidable." The railroad asserted that the imposition of such a commission "would add a great burden" upon the carriers of the country because of the large aggregate of cases in which fines are imposd.

The Conklin is built for the man and woman, the boy and girl, who require the highest degree of utility in a pen or automatic pencil.

utility in a pen or automatic pencil.
Their superiority begins with the fine simplicity of mechanical design, and the higher quality of workmanship and material.
You see this superiority carried out in size and shape, in weight and balance, and in exterior beauty and finish. But is the EASE with which they write, the EASE with which they refill, the EASE with which they rout take them from the pocket and return them, that finally and fully express the greater Conklin excellence.
